The automatic Magellan 1521 features a globe on the dial with a domed sapphire crystal.

MAGELLAN WATCH

Based in Le Locle, Magellan Watch is a tribute to the famed explorer who changed the course of history in 1521 when he became the first to circumnavigate the globe. The company also has a Golf Series and Unique Dial series, including several made of real fossil. All are intricately worked, limiting production size.

Each function in the Sequential One is based on a combination of elements that rotate on three-dimensional axes at different speeds and times.

MANUFACTURE CONTEMPORAINE DU TEMPS

Denis Giguet, founder of MCT, has a focused vision for his company. He does not produce more than 300 watches a year, ensuring high-end quality and exclusivity. Having had a career at Rolex, Harry Winston (working on the highly acclaimed Opus series) and served as a consultant, Giguet went out on his own in 2007. His team includes twenty expert artisans.

The Marvin Malton 160 is a tribute to the firm's 160th anniversary. It comes in four models; the regulator display shown here is fitted with a Dubois-Dépraz movement.

MARVIN WATCH C° 1850

Founded in 1850, the Marvin Watch Company is a revamped brand that has a representation in over seventy countries. Its mechanical and quartz Swiss timepieces follow the traditions of Swiss watchmaking, with elegance and modernity at affordable price points.

The Chrono Sport is available in a stainless steel, black or gold PVD case measuring 44 or 47 mm.

METAL.CH

This newcomer outfits divers and sports enthusiasts with oversized watches with three recognizable features: a double protection on the crown, colorful dials and a star-shaped logo. The watches come in stainless steel or can be upgraded to rose gold and black PVD.

The Graphica comes in a black DLC case that features a complex two-level dial.

PETER TANISMAN

Bedros Tanisman declared his independence in 2008, creating his own timepieces after an extensive career with other jewelry and watch companies. His Geneva workshop makes unique timepieces that combine his love for Swiss watchmaking with his Turkish heritage. The company's first timepiece, the Carrousel ladies model was a nominee for the Grand Prix de l'Horlogerie de Genève.
